

By the Way

No Doubt

By the way, every little thing about her face
Fills him up, the image so pleasing it could never be erased
Here to stay, embedded in his mind
He wishes they could be together all the time
By the way she says things, the tone, just to hear her voice
He can't explain, the sound so exciting to him a perfect choice
Here to stay, embedded in his mind
He wishes they could be together all the time
Crazy independent, Spanish speaking, arty flirty red wine drinking
Sexy tomboy with a natural way of thinking carefree
Innocent she's slightly sneaky confident and proud from another country
Has her way lives for today by the way she's far away
By the way, holding her, hugging her can feel so warm
Just think about it, two bodies embracing, creating love in this form
Here to stay, embedded in his mind
He wishes they could be together all the time
Crazy independent, Spanish speaking, arty flirty red wine drinking
Sexy tomboy with a natural way of thinking crazy
Then she kissed him and she went away
Far across to San Francisco Bay
You'd think that she would think again
And only want to be with him
Regardless of the things that pull her far away, she's far away Crazy independent, Spanish speaking, arty flirty red wine drinking
Sexy tomboy with a natural way of thinking crazy
By the way she's far away and by the way she's far away Crazy independent, Spanish speaking, arty flirty red wine drinking
By the way she's far away, by the way she's far away
Crazy independent, Spanish speaking, arty flirty red wine drinking
By the way she's far away
