

Dolores

Freedy Johnston

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Dolores was her middle name
She read the book and everything
Now I know how old I am
Have you ever seen that film? Talking to a hotel mirror with my glasses off
Now you know just what he's crying about Dolores was her middle name
Dangling from a silver chain
Where'd you learn to talk that way?
I look like James Mason's ghost Talking to a friend after school but you don't see
That she's really looking right at me, yeah, yeah, yeah Dolores was her middle name
And now her mother's wondering
If I could see my wrinkled face
Paint her lovely toenails red Writing all my problems in a secret little book
Now I know just what he should've done
Talking to me like I'm just a little late
Now you know just what he's talking about Dolores was her middle name Dolores was her middle name
