

Another World

Brian May

In another world
Under another sky
I see another story waiting
To be told And another you, wakes up
With another me
For that's the way we've come to be
In another world In a different place
Way 'cross time and space
The door is open wide
Drawn to a different light
Maybe we'll step inside In another world
We can show we care
You can be sure I'm waiting there
In another world When the dice were cast
They laid a crazy path we follow to our graves
But I know in different world
We journey a different way So we live but life
Isn't what it seems
We're only living in our dreams
In another world You can believe I'll meet you here
In another world
