Nowhere

Murderdolls

I pull a switch
All systems down
And all that's left is a sound
But no it all is left in doubt
Reaching for stars
You know you can't get far
If you don't know who you are
Fate can leave a scar
And now I bite the hand that's feeding me cause that hand is so decieving
Is there a law against believing in yourself?
I say I'm going Nowhere
And you know that I don't care
How I'm getting there
Somethings never change
And there's an escape
I say I'm going Nowhere
And you know that I don't care
How I'm getting there
I pack my bags and I wish you well
I found myself a brand new hell
You, In your suit and tie
Trying to dictate my life
With all of your lies
No respect
No loyalty
Nobody writes for free
Especially with me

And now I bite the hand that's feeding me cause that hand is so decieving
Is there a law against believing in yourself?
I say I'm going Nowhere
And you know that I don't care
How I'm getting there
Somethings never change
And there's an escape
I say I'm going Nowhere
And you know that I don't care
How I'm getting there
I pack my bags and I wish you well

I found myself a brand new hell
And now I bite the hand that's feeding me cause that hand is so decieving
Is there a law against believing in yourself?
In yourself
I say I'm going Nowhere
And you know that I don't care
How I'm getting there
Somethings never change
I say I'm going Nowhere
And you know that I don't care
How I'm getting there
I pack my bags and I wish you well
