

Kylie from Connecticut

Ben Folds

It's just a thought but where did it come from?
What does she do if it, if it comes back?
A note from his assistant there by the telephone
She sees it again as she turns out the light Kylie is calling from Connecticut
She says you've got the number
It said Kylie is calling from Connecticut
It's there on her mind as she closes her eyes She believes there are things you shouldn't know about
When you've been married for thirty five years
And her heart belongs to a man that she hadn't seen
Since a magical night when the children were small Kylie is calling from Connecticut
She says you've got the number
It said Kylie is calling from Connecticut
It's back on her mind as she closes her eyes Kylie is calling from Connecticut
It's probably nothing, yeah nothing at all
But Kylie is calling from Connecticut
It's all coming back as she's reading old letters That she'd hid in the closet
With the pictures she cherished
That she kept to herself for a good thirty years
Now she closes her eyes

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>