Totally Wired.

The Fall

I'm totally wired
Totally wired
I'm totally wired
Totally wiredCan't you see
A butterfly stomach 'round ground?
I drank a jar of coffee
And I took some of theseAnd I'm totally wired
Totally wired
I'm totally wired
Totally wiredLife leaves you surprised
Slaps you in the eyes
If I were a communist
A rich man would bale meThe opposite applies
The morning light
Another fresh fight
Another row, right, right, right, rightAnd I'm totally wired
Just totally wired
I'm totally biased
Totally wiredYou don't have to be weird to be wired
You don't have to be an American brand
You don't have to be strange to be strange
You don't have to be weird to be weirdBut I'm totally wired
Totally wired
Just totally wired
I'm totally wiredMy heart and I agree
My heart and I agree
I'm irate, peeved, irate, peeved, irate, bad state
Bad state'Cos I'm totally wired
Totally wired
Just totally wired
Totally wiredAnd I'm always worried
And I'm always worried
And I'm always worried
And I'm always worried
