The Dark Is Rising

Mercury Rev

I dreamed of you on my farm
I dreamed of you in my arms
But dreams are always wrong
I never dreamed I'd hurt you
I never dreamed I'd lose you
In my dreams, I'm always strongAnd now the creek is rising
And all my bridges burntI always dreamed of big crowds
Plooms of smoke and high clouds
But dreams don't last for longI have my suspicions
When the stars are in position
All will be revealed
But I know that until then
Unless the stars surrender
All will be concealedAnd now the snow is falling
And all my fences tornI know you need someone
And I can hear someone
Somewhere in this songI dreamed that I was walking
And the two of us were talking
Of all lifes mysteries
The words that flow between friends
Winding streams without end
I wanted you to seeBut it can seem surprising
When you find yourself alone
And now the dark is rising
And a brand new moon is bornI always dreamed I'd love you
I never dreamed I'd lose you
In my dreams, I'm always strong
