First Time

Hawk Nelson

Stepping over two steps closer
I sit around wasting time
Feel like the poster for a self help line
Well me know the truth when we're olderFor the first time my whole life
I'm not afraid of feeling alive
For the last time I'm falling behind
Nothing out there will change my mindLet's start over crimson clover
While these golden nights get colder
If I could I'd press rewind turn on record and leave the past behind
Will we know the truth when we're olderFor the first time my whole life
I'm not afraid of feeling alive
For the last time I'm falling behind
Nothing out there will change my mindWhen you find me will you remind me
One step closer, two steps closerFor the first time my whole life
I'm not afraid of feeling alive
For the last time I'm falling behind
Nothing out there will change meFor the first time my whole life
I'm not afraid of feeling alive
For the last time I'm falling behind
Nothing out there will change meFor the first time my whole life
I'm not afraid of feeling alive
This is the last time I'm falling behind
Nothing out there will change my mind
