Bravado

Rush

If we burn our wings Flying too close to the sun If the moment of glory Is over before it's begunIf the dream is won Though everything is lost We will pay the price But we will not count the cost We will pay the price But we will not count the costWhen the dust has cleared And victory denied A summit too lofty River a little too wideIf we keep our pride Though paradise is lost We will pay the price But we will not count the cost We will pay the price But we will not count the costAnd if the music stops There's only the sound of the rain All the hope and glory All the sacrifice in vainAnd if love remains Though everything is lost We will pay the price But we will not count the cost We will pay the price But we will not count the costAnd if love remains Though everything is lost We will pay the price But we will not count the costAnd if love remains Though everything is lost We will pay the price
