Bloodstained Cement

Cannibal Corpse

Stalking his prey
He prepares for the ambush
I hear his steps
But without trepidation
Hyper aware
I will strike backWhen he brandished the blade
Gave his intentions awayBack to the wall, I have no choice
It's time to fight or die
I will respond with overwhelming force
A switch turns on and I must surviveFearless resolve
As I spring into actionQuickly disarm
And remove his advantage
Only one thing on my mind
Stop his attackNow he's on the defense
Momentum is shifting my wayA savage brawl, I hear his voice
Pure terror in his cries
Break his balance, slam him to the ground
Following through to stay aliveLanding multiple blows
The blood is starting to sprayWill not stop till I am sure
The threat has been put down
Raining down with forearm thrusts
Torrents of blood flow from his eyes
Bloodstained cementNo weakness to exploit
His ambush failed
Hammer fists break facial bones
Knuckles bleed from shards of teethSmash his skull onto the pavement
Make the bastard pay
Don't stop until it cracks
And spills out his brainBloodstained cementWhen he chose me as prey
A fatal mistake was made
