Train

Leo Sayer

Running through my life, like a river, like a song
The train keeps pushing me
Right back to the place where I belong
Back along the tracks, fly a million years
Right across my path
The train moves on, ringing in my ears
Come on board
Come on board
Train, oh train
Take me back again
I remember, I remember, I remember
Train, oh train
The journey ends and starts again
I remember, I remember, take me back
I've been up all night trying to get this down
Now I'm hallucinating
Staring at the wall, look what I'm creating
Look at the clock, I'm twelve hours old
So many more remain
Way up ahead I know I see a train

Get on board
Get on board
Train, oh train
All those memories, all over again
I remember, I remember, take me back, take me back
Train, oh train
You know the journey ends and starts again
I remember, I remember, take me back
Waited on the station all day
Just to catch a glimpse of the morning train
Just to see the wheels turning round, blowing up steam
You see what I mean, you see what I mean
Train, oh train
Take me back again
I remember, I remember, I remember
Train, oh train
The journey ends and starts again
I remember, I remember, take me back

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/