

Neohuman

Tangerine Circus

Welcome to the new age
A world without exceptions
A mindshell of corruption
Held by procrastinationThe streets are crying in panic
Punishing disobedience
The altar and the throne
Morphing in the futureChaos and deception are caught in the air
Rules are being made into freedom of speech
Leaders are in charge of twisting his democracy
Looking to the abyss, getting ready to dieRising darkness, among ashes
Loss of freedom, prison of hopes
In the system, mind control
Hopeless struggle for survivalChaos and deception are caught in the air
Rules are being made into freedom of speech
Leaders are in charge of twisting his democracy
Looking to the abyss, getting ready to dieNot even in death can God take his pain away
No heaven or no hell
Not even in dreams can he expel the Devil of his mindOr his soulRising darkness, the shadow of his heart
An empty cross, the symbol of his long demise
Long forgotten of the pleasures of some lost love
This is his world now
NeohumanLooking in the mirror, A gaze of lost eternities
Consumed by insanity
Living a lie
Breathing with fear
Fading in his memories, recalling his pernicious deeds
Reaching to the turning point, a seed of will, his life and his heartNot even in death can God take his pain away
No heaven or no hell
Not even in dreams can he expel the Devil of his mind
An empty cross, the symbol of his long demise
Long forgotten of the pleasures of some lost love
This is his world now
Neohuman
