Easy

Alyssa Bernal

It's so easy loving you
There really isn't much to do
We don't have to dim the lights
We don't have to make it right
It's so easy loving you
We don't have to make a move
We can lie around all day, being lazy

When the world conspires to break us up
Someone says you're not good enough
We still know what we've got, it's easy

Even though I keep testing you
Slow you down and mess with you
Then we walk the beach at night
And it's alright

Think I've known you all my life
Even though we met in May
In your eyes I see a light, it's easy

When the world conspires to break us up
Someone says you're not good enough
We still know what we've got, it's easy
Sometimes when you're far away
My mind plays tricks but that's okay
Cause I still know what we've got it's easy
Easy

Hey...

Cause I still know what we've got, yeah

When the world conspires to break us up
Someone says you're not good enough
We still know what we've got it's easy
Sometimes when you're far away
My mind plays tricks but that's okay
Cause I still know what we've got, it's easy
Easy
