Crumbling Down

Go Betty Go

Down are the times that I felt like shit
I felt so lost
That my mind couldn't find its way
I know that I'm okayI turned around and locked the door
what should I expect, well I don't know
Will I screw up? Will I do fine?
It's only a matter of myTime is all I had to lose and all the changes have become the truth
With all these new surroundings before me
My walls come crumblingDown are the times when I felt like shit
I felt so lost
That my mind couldn't find its way
I know that I'm okayPhrases were my jealous words
Counting pigeons off my neighbor's roof
Holding all my insecurities, fixing up my crazy thoughts
Coping with the loss of innocence
My walls come crumblingDown are the times when I felt like shit
I felt so lost
That my mind couldn't find its way
I know that I'm okayI turned around and locked the door
What should I expect, well I don't know
Will I screw up? Will I do fine?
It's only a matter of my time
