On Your Way Down

Stabbing Westward

I hope I see you on your way down
I hope you break every bone
I hope it kills you on your way down
And I hope you die alone
All of your hate and all of your lies
Will it be worth it?
When all of your friends refuse to be alibis
Will it be worth it?
I'll see you on your way down
I'll see you on your way down
I'll see you on your way down
It's kind of sad to watch you break down
You greedy fuck, you pissed it all away
So who will catch you on your way down?
You've only got yourself to blame
When all your worst fears materialize
Will it be worth it?
There's nobody left who cares you're alive
Was it worth it?
I'll see you on your way down
I'll see you on your way down
I'll see you on your way down
Way down
Way down
I'll see you on your way down
I'll see you on your way down
I'll see you on your way down
