

Fall Into Me

Hey Monday

I was looking through the chair
You were looking through the mirror
Never met eyes
No, I've never seen clearer than now
There's no way out I'm tingling in places I didn't know existed
How are things right and also twisted?
How can we work this out?
Somehow everything in me is changing
In the most amazing kind of way Every single breath you take away
Gives me more life than before
We could be the perfect masterpiece
Baby, bring me in and fall into me Whenever you are near
I feel like we could do anything
And I think we should now
We'll take the town Your eyes tell me something
Afraid to misread but if I'm wrong
What if you mislead me?
Still, it's worth the thrill Somehow everything in me is aching
Just to hear your gentle voice again Every single breath you take away
Gives me more life than before
We could be the perfect masterpiece
Baby, bring me in Things aren't simple anymore
Can't jump in until you know
But I think that I just might
Close my eyes and hold on tight To every single breath
To every single breath Every single breath you take away
Gives me more life than before
We could be the perfect masterpiece
Baby, bring me in Every single breath you take away
Gives me more life than before
We could be the perfect masterpiece
Baby, bring me in, bring me in and fall into me
