

Breaking Now

From Ashes to New

I just don't care, don't care anymore
I just don't care anymore and I can't pretend
I haven't been here before and haven't seen the end
I sometimes hope for a cure I'm just lost within I just don't care anymore, why can't I winI open my eyes and these lies they breed and they feed off of me
I try to revive a design
but can't see a need to agree
I'd hide in my mind and rewind
the scene or I'd flee underneathBut time after time I still find
I bleed more for me to succeed
It's hard to care care care if I'm breaking now
Every single thing I swear tries to take me down
It's hard to care care care if I make it outEvery single thought of despair tries to take me down
I'm keeping myself alive to just live like this
And force myself to decide what's my life's purpose
I'm stuck in back of the line and behind the mixStill trying to find what is mine find where I fit
I open my eyes and these lies they breed and they feed off of meI try to revive a design
but can't see a need to agree
I'd hide in my mind and rewind
the scene or I'd flee underneath
But time after time I still find
I bleed more for me to succeedIt's hard to care care care if I'm breaking now
Every single thing I swear tries to take me down
It's hard to care care care if I make it out
Every single thought of despair tries to take me downAll the time it's trying to break me
Every lie is trying to take me
Now I find I'm dying to save me
But down inside I care a little less lately
All the time it's trying to break meEvery lie is trying to take me
Now I find I'm dying to save me
But down inside I care a little less lately
All the time it's trying to break me
Now I find I'm dying to save me
But down inside I care a little less lately
All the time it's trying to break me
Every lie is trying to take meNow I find I'm dying to save me
But down inside I care a little less lately

It's hard to care care care if I'm breaking now
Every single thing I swear tries to take me downIt's hard to care care care if I make it out
Every single thought of despair tries to take me down
All the time it's trying to break me
Every lie is trying to take me
Now I find I'm dying to save me
But down inside I care a little less latelyAll the time it's trying to break me
Every lie is trying to take me
Now I find I'm dying to save me
But down inside I care a little less lately
