We Stand Alone

Ultravox

The words played on around our heads Perhaps we went too far We'll soldier on until the end, againThis clutching hand around my hand So pitiful and frail Makes bleeding hearts begin to beat againWe stand in a different light That's cast upon, this gigolo and gigolette We stand with a different frame around us nowBut when we talk, we talk in time We'll shine with profiles so strong and so clear And when we move, we move in time Won't fade like pictures that come back againYour propaganda touched my soul Those thin and cherished words A willing victim for the kill againWe stand in a different light That's cast upon, this gigolo and gigolette We stand with a different frame around us nowAnd when we talk, we talk in time We shine with profiles so strong and so clear And when we move, we move in time Won't fade like pictures that come back againWe stand in a different light That's cast upon, this gigolo and gigolette We stand with a different frame around us nowBut when we talk, we talk in time We shine with profiles so strong and so clear And when we move, we move in time Won't fade like pictures that come back again
