Curse

Lucy Schwartz

I was afraid that the silence would break
Scared of rewriting my latest mistake in this life
Ooh

If you fall over you blow the house down
Then thereâ€™s nothing left but this sorry old ground in this life
Ooh

Was it you who put a curse on me
Every time I sing the keys turn to stone
Was it you who put a spell on me
If ever I touch something soon it is gone

I was convinced that my bell couldnâ€™t sing
All of the other bells beautifully ring in this life
Ooh

Once I knew love in the shape of a man
But soon as it came it was taken again from this life
Ooh

Was it you who put a curse on me
Every time I sing the keys turn to stone
Was it you who put a spell on me
If ever I touch something soon it is gone

Who put a curse on me
Who lit the flame
Who put a curse on me
Who can I blame

You get one more small sorrow
You get one more small sorrow
You get one more small sorrow

Was it you who put a curse on me
Every time I sing the keys turn to stone
Was it you who put a spell on me
If ever I touch something soon it is gone
Was it you who put a curse on me

Every time I sing the keys turn to stone
Was it you who put a spell on me
If ever I touch something soon it is gone

Lyrics submitted by Cassie Medcalf.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/