

Modern Worksong

Broken Records

This is the air i breath
This is the light i see
This is the heart underneath
In the pounding rainAnd this is the fumbling graphs
This is a hollow love
This is a sleepless night
In a deep sheet greenSo give me a reason to sing
Won't you give me a reason to sing
And please just help me nowGive me a job to keep
And give me a place to sleep
In a home i can call me own
That the bank can't takeSo give me a reason to sing
Won't you give me a reason to sing
And please just help me nowIn air borderlines they come to me
And loads of little borders kiss
I shout and scream, to put me back to hold you againSo carry a heart for me
Turn on a light to say
For all of the hurt they're be there next to you
And scrabbling the dirt
