Everything Is

Growing sleepy as the rain falls
As children draped in flowers form a chain
They sing a song with jelly jars and bird calls
As night falls into dust and it's day againI'm not afraid of love parade in my daydream
Old men with kazoos and beating drums
But I awake and I see the streets are ice cream
It's just you and me and oh dear, our life has just begunEverything is beautiful here
It's spinning circles around my ears
I'm finally breaking free from fear
And it's fadingOh beautiful smiles, won't you stay awhile
We could close the door and sleep all day
It's a September sky with pretty pictures in my mind
That's lost its feeling of so afraidEverything is beautiful here
It's spinning circles around my ears
I'm finally breaking free from fear
And it's fading onGrowing sleepy now as the rain falls
As children draped in flowers form a chain
They sing a song with jelly jars and bird calls
As night falls into dust and it's day againEverything is beautiful here
It's spinning circles around my ears
I'm finally breaking free from fear
And it's fading on, fading on
And it's fading on, it's fading on
