

Hey Daddy

Billy Ray Cyrus

Yeah, you know I'm sure there's fly back
Just goes on and on and on
One day you look up and it's all gone
March yesterday One silver sales working man, they were standing still Always with his nose to the ground stone
One day his little girl asked just as he walked past
She called out, Are you leaving home? Hey daddy why you're always goin' away?
Hey daddy can't you stick around and play?
Can't you see I'm growing fast, this time here will never last
Hey daddy, think of me today Funny how time seems to change, how they rearrange
So quick and yet so true
That little girl is a momma now, she grew up somehow
Left that old man feeling blue, he heard her say 'Hey daddy why you're always goin' away?
Hey daddy can't you stick around and play?
Can't you see I'm growing fast, these times will never last
Hey daddy, think of me today, hey daddy, think of me today
Hey daddy, won't you think of me today?'

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>