You Before Me

Hoobastank

Tell me everything you need
All the secrets that you keep
Even if it takes all day
Even if it takes all night
I can put the world on hold
So you and I can be alone
Even if it takes all day
Even if it takes all night
I would do anything for you
I always will put you before me
You before me
And everything I'll ask of you
I always will put you before me
You before me
Lay your head down next to mine
By your side I feel alive
Tell me that you'll stay all day
Tell me that you'll stay all night

I would do anything for you
I always will put you before me
You before me
And everything I'll ask of you
I always will put you before me
You before me
Say the word and I'll be there
Say the word and I'll be there
Tell me everything you need
All the secrets we can keep
Even if it takes all day
Even if it takes all night
I would do anything for you
I always will put you before me
You before me
And everything I'll ask of you
I always will put you before me
You before me
Say the word and I'll be there
