Secondary

Brand New

Well, it comes down to you, never and ever, wrecked his day
Looks and flirts and midnight in your shortest skirt
Past the point of trying, I'm a dying breed
Thank you for reminding me of all the things I've done completely wrongStop these looks and letters
This isn't for the better
You put me down it's for the worse
You're not my girlStop the circulation to my legs and break my bones
Dateless and late, better by myself at home
Past the point of trying and I'm dying here
Secondary laughs at every word I know came out completely wrongStop these looks and letters
This isn't for the better
You put me down it's for the worse
You're not my girlStop these looks and letters
This isn't for the better
You put me down it's for the worse
You're not my girlIt's my last semester
And brothers always come firstIt's my last semester at least until next winter
But I'm sure that I'll be over this by then
Past the point of trying, I'm a dying breed
Thank you for reminding me of all the things I've done completely wrongStop these looks and letters
This isn't for the better
You put me down it's for the worse
You're not my girl(Better scenes, I wish you'd seen me)
Stop these looks and letters
(Better off if I just let it be)
This isn't for the better
(Better pretend it don't matter)
You put me down it's for the worse
(Better off if I could have her)
You're not my girl(Better days since the day I met her)
Stop these looks and letters
(I'd better hope she got my letter)
This isn't for the better
(Better off in two year stretches)
You're not my girl
