I'll Forgive You (interlude)

Bobby Valentino

I might as well admit it that I still miss you
I know what I said but it's kind of hard for me and it's hurting me
This is bigger than pride and I wanna give it another try
I'm still torn in two but love made me make this decision soI'll forgive you but you really hurt me, my heart wants to try us again
I know you're only human but you almost destroyed me
Our love was worth it still I need a little more timeI hope you learned a lesson about hurting the ones you really love
'Cause I was a soldier for you would have done anything to prove it to you
Maybe we can get on track, rekindle the love, bring it back
'Cause there's nobody else for me, my heart just wants to say this to youI'll forgive you but you really hurt mem my heart wants to try us again
I know you're only human but you almost destroyed me
Our love was worth it still I need a little more timeI'll forgive you but you really hurt me, my heart wants to try us again
I know you're only human but you almost destroyed me
Our love was worth it still I need a little more timeI got to figure this out in my mind
We need a new start, no more deceitful lies
If someone told me we would be apart
I would say your foolish 'cause God brought you to meI'll forgive you but you really hurt me, my heart wants to try us again
I know you're only human but you almost destroyed me
Our love was worth it still I need a little more timeI'll forgive you but you really hurt me, my heart wants to try us again
I know you're only human but you almost destroyed me
Our love was worth it still I need a little more time
