Penny

Snowmine

You took my penny and you dropped it down your well. You said it was your luck but you it let you down again.

And I blame you.

I blame you. You took my hand and you lead me off a cliff. You said that I could trust, but you let me down again.

And I blame you.

I blame you.Love, please stay just for a minute I know there's something that you didn't notice I know you can't stay just for a minute

Cuz you're not that type. You took my penny and you dropped it down your well.

You thought it was your luck but you it let you down again.

And I blame you.

I blame you.But love please stay just for a minute
I know there's something that you didn't notice
I know you can't stay just for a minute
Cuz you're not that type.You said time and time again that I'd make you run away
But I want you, I need you.Love, please stay just for a minute
I know there's something that you didn't notice
I know you can't stay just for a minute
Cuz you're not that type. (2X)
