

Raspberries

The Birds of Satan

Is this the way you always thought it'd be?
Said the father to his son
Looking back, look again to the road that never ends
Maybe there was nothing after all You watch the day turn to another one
Hide in the nighttime, all alone
Deep inside, in your head, the words you never said
Slowly down the list you hear them all
Like ghosts, them come
To lead you to an early grave You don't wanna live your life like that
You've got to let it go You don't wanna live your life like that
Give up and let it go
Too much to lose became the enemy
Too much was right in on your fall
Like a wall, to resist, but it never would exist
In your head, they've been there all alone
Like ghosts, them come
To lead you to an early grave You don't wanna live your life like that
You've got to let it go You don't wanna live your life like that
Give up and let it go No, you don't wanna live your life like that
You've got to let it go No, you don't wanna live your life like that Give up and let it go You don't wanna live your life like that
Give up and let it go
No, you don't wanna live your life like that
You've got to let it go No, you don't wanna live your life like that Give up and let it go Why do you wanna live your life like that?
You've got to let it go
