You Sleep Alone

Hellogoodbye

Oh dear love, such a chore
Something you've got but you never show
It's like some deed left undone
Or a reap you'll never sow
It's like you'll never get it done
It's like you'll never get it done
It's like you'll never get it done
Where's your heart? Where's your head?
Girl, your body's in my bed
I know it's hard to forget every word we've said
But it's like you'll never let it go
It's like you'll never let it go
It's you'll never let it go
Oh, I know it's hard of a lover
I don't know just where you are
I've been tryin' different ways to find your lover's heart
End up with your cold shoulder, uh, oh
Oh, I am not crumbling, though I thought
That I might from what it's done to me
It might never be the way we thought it ought to be
Lovers never sleep alone, uh, oh
Oh, my God, what a mess
Oh it is, I must confess
Every word I say to you
Sweep up the floor, underneath the rug
Oh, it's like we'll never clean it up
It's like we'll never clean it up
It's like we'll never clean it up
I know it's hard of a lover
I don't know just where you are
I've been tryin' different ways to find your lover's heart
End up with your cold shoulder, uh, oh
Oh, I am not crumbling, though I thought
That I might from what it's done to me
It might never be the way we thought it ought to be
Lovers never sleep alone, uh, oh
And you sleep alone
And you sleep alone
And you sleep alone

'Cause you sleep alone
Oh, I know it's hard of a lover
I don't know just where you are
I've been tryin' different ways to find your lover's heart
End up with your cold shoulder, uh, oh
Oh, I am not crumbling, though I thought
That I might from what it's done to me
It might never be the way we thought it ought to be
Lovers never sleep alone, uh, oh
Alone [Incomprehensible]
