Sky Is Mine

Amorphis

From my world the sun faded
And the moon from my sky was gone with stars
I came home to a bleak room of sorrow
Forsaken house, place of grief, in solitudeI listened to my heart beating
The faint rush of my blood
I listened to my heart beating
The echoes from spaceSomething moving in the emptiness
Something drew me near
Someone told me of my future deeds
Whispered them in my earThe sky stirred
The lights of space flared
Beneath my feet
The living earth started to breatheThis sky is mine
This sword is mine
This fate is mine
This miracle, mineFrom steel I made the master's sword
Cleaves stone, cliff, a mountain
From darkness I stepped
Onto the path of stars
