My Heart

Wildbirds & Peacedrums

my heart, slow down oh won't you beat a little slower but don't stop, no never end the hunting the hours catch me makin' and wonderin' what to do next hey cause there is so much time to kill there's so many holes to fill with anything, something don't run
you see i'm lost without your rhythm
don't run
you see i'm lost without your rhythm my heart don't know that even the fastest will get older and the clock will count down the hours and minutes and seconds and rush in, my heart look under the bed for all those moments but they're not home now no there's nothing to paste or to paint over
don't run
you see i'm lost without your rhythm
don't run
you see i'm lost without your rhythm.
my heart believes that there's no reason to increase that pulse
into runnin' horses
don't make me slip and loose that feelin'
of a few seconds immortality
my heart believes that there's no reason to increase that pulse into runnin' horses
don't make me slip and loose that feelin' of a few seconds of immortality
my heart believes that there's no reason
don't make me slip and loose that feelin
of a few seconds , hey, immortality
my heart believes that there's no reason

don't make me slip and loose that feelin'
of a few seconds, hey, sweet immortality my heart believes that there's no reason
to increase that pulse into runnin' horses
don't make me slip and loose that feelin' of a few seconds of sweet immortality
don't run
cause you see i'm lost without your rhythm don't run (don't run)
no, no, you see i'm lost without your rhythm.
cause you see i'm lost without your rhythm.
cause you see i'm lost without your rhythm.
cause you see i'm lost without your rhythm.
(don't run, you see i'm lost without your rhythm)
