Falling To Pieces

Thornley

I see you coming up the drive
That's when I know that I'm alive
And all the things we'll leave behind
We finally found what we can findThe rest of my life is falling to pieces
While we get lost inside the momentThe waves keep crashing at my door
'Til I can't hear them anymore
And all the time I gave away
Made me who I am todayThe rest of my life is falling to pieces
And where would I be now without you, baby
The rest of my life is falling to piecesThe rest of my life is falling to pieces
While we get lost inside the momentThe rest of my life is falling to pieces
And where would I be now without you, baby
