

...And I Hope He's A Serial Killer

X Reign of Terror X

Hey yo i told her from the start she was to good for me but she ignored it, said no matter what she adored me but i never worried she assured me in a hurry we were perfect for each other, ad then things got blurry but it was to late, i gave my heart away for sincerity and when she left i guess she couldnt see the severity 6 months we would see each other when we could even when i was recording or i was out on tour and then her life got rough she didnt want my suport i guess she didnt need me anymore she broke for the door i tried to move on but i was dying inside i kept a straight face and lied, told all my friends i was fine i was sitting on easy, but i didnt know why she just upped and said by left my mind to (unknown) the love of my life packed a poisonous bite i never noticed u were heartless until that night thats right

did i not treat you well enough, what the fuck did i do would have given you the world if you wanted me to what do i get in return, a fucking email that says your busy things are shitty and how our our relationship failed you didnt seem to care, brushed it off like hair but you made it quite clear we were over for real it was only a matter of time, i saw it coming from a mile away you should have given us a second chance before you strayed but not today, i stand here heartless because you stole it and broke it and tossed it in the garbage and now i see what your mum did to you cauese you did it to me and i hope you notice that to i would have waited while you got your life straightened out instead i just wasted half a year to get erased now you should have never led me onto think this was gonna last go ahead burn out pictures its a thing of the past

Im moving on, my hearts still torn, after this song you wont exist to me anymore x4
