Don't Fade Away

David Choi

When the world is crashing down
And you're left alone on shaky ground
It seems like losing hope's
The only way to cope
But you can turn around and see
That every precious memory
Is still inside of you
Just let it shine on through
Don't fade away
Nothing's what it seems
You're lost and in between
But you'll find yourself again
Don't fade away, don't fade away
Take your time and think it through
You've got everything in front of you
It's like a brand new page
Each and every day
Don't fade away
Nothing's what it seems
You're lost and in between
You'll find yourself again
Don't fade away
Hold on to your dreams
Through waves of suffering
The tide will turn again
Don't fade away
All that you've seen
All that you've done
Don't say it's over
You hold the key

Unlock the sun
Don't fade away
Nothing's what it seems
You're lost and in between
But you'll find yourself again
Don't fade away
Hold on to your dreams
Through waves of suffering

The tide will turn again
Don't fade away
Nothing's what it seems
And all that really means
Is that you'll find yourself again
Don't fade away
Hold on to your dreams
Through waves of suffering
Tide will turn again
Don't fade away
Don't fade away, don't fade away
Don't fade away, don't fade away
Don't fade away, don't fade away
Don't fade away
When the world is crashing down
Don't fade away
And you're left alone on shaky ground
Don't fade away, don't fade away, don't fade away
Don't fade away, don't fade away
Don't fade away, don't fade away

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/