

I'm Not Perfect

Lori Martini

Today I washed my makeup away
So that the mirror could see my face
I wanted all my pain to portray
What my words could not say

Cos I'll never be good enough
They see my tears and call my bluff
Gotta tough it out and suck it up to stay
To stay
Keep on running to the top
No time to breathe
No time to stop
But I

Gotta shut the world out
And break down
So I can see what's left of me
Time for me to be alone
Where I feel home
And remember what I believe
I just wanna cry out loud
Cos it's the only sound
That will truly set me free
I'm just standing still to say to you
I'm not perfect
Just thought you should know

So hectic I can't find my way
And I'm tired of all this rain
I'm damaged and so ashamed
Only half my soul remains

Cos I'll never be pretty enough
They see my tears and call my bluff
Gotta tough it out and suck it up to stay
To stay
Keep on running to the top
No time to breathe
No time to stop

But I

Gotta shut the world out
And break down
So I can see whatâ€™s left of me
Time for me to be alone
Where I feel home
And remember what I believe
I just wanna cry out loud
Cos itâ€™s the only sound
That will truly set me free
Iâ€™m just standing still to say to you
Iâ€™m not perfect

Oh I'm so afraid to change
And oh I know it's the only way

Gotta shut the world out
And break down
Time for me to be alone
Where I feel home
That will truly set me free
Iâ€™m just standing still to say to you
