Full Circle

Creed

Got your freedom now, boy, who do you serve
Took for granted what you should have preserved
No time left, no time left to make amends
Keep burning bridges while you're buying your new friendsA day of reflection hits
You're a shell, skin and bones, counting costs

Is it worth your soul?

A day of reflection hitsIt's funny how times can change Rearrange and distance makes the pain fade away

So important then, doesn't matter now, both feet on the ground Come full circle, yeah, come full circleNo access granted now, boy, you've been denied Jump a fence to see what's on the other side

Are you wanted, are you wanted?

The question is could second chances mean another impressionA day of reflection hits You're a shell, skin and bones, counting costs

Is it worth your soul?

A day of reflection hitsIt's funny how times can change Rearrange and distance makes the pain fade away So important then, doesn't matter now, both feet on the ground

Come full circle, we've come full circleI got one foot stuck in heaven, yeah, one boot stuck in hell

I looked at God, he winked at me, I made this mess myself

Don't be surprised and don't deny, hear every word I say

Close the door and don't look back or you will fade awayIt's funny how times can change Rearrange and distance makes the pain fade awayIt's funny how times can change

Rearrange and distance makes the pain fade away

So important then, doesn't matter now, both feet on the ground Come full circle, full circle, come full circle, we have come full circle
