The Jig Is Up

Edison Glass

Your eyes see further than mine
I can see as far as the sun and the moon in the sky
Your hands are warmer than mine
I'm still alive, still alive but I can't feel the warmth from insideHow can you say the warmth makes you?
How can you say your sight leads you home?
How can you say the warmth makes you?
How can you say?I've asked, slipped around and then I broke
After what I can't seem to figure out how and why
And I can't seem to handle itI'll wait for your words, I'll trust, you'll say, say
We can handle it all and you'll say
We can handle it all and you'll say, you'll sayHow can you say the warmth makes you?
How can you say your sight leads you?
How can you say the warmth makes you?
How can you say your sight leads you?How can you say the warmth makes you?
How can you say your sight leads you?
How can you say the warmth makes you?
How can you say?Your eyes see further than mine
I can see as far as the sun and the moon in the sky
I'll wait for your words, I'll trust, you'll say

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/