

Belongs to You

Babatunde Sunday

The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth his handiwork; Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night sheweth knowledge. There is no speech nor language, where there voice is not heard so I join the host of heaven to say my praises belongs to you /3x my praise, my praise, belongs to you God.

My praises belongs to you God, my praises belongs to you, my praises belongs to you God, my praise, my praise belongs to you God.

All glory belongs to you God, all glory belongs to you, all glory belongs to you God, all glory, belongs to you God.

All honour belongs to you God, all honour belongs to you, all honour belongs to you God, all honour belongs to you God.

Orun ti mo sun lanan lelo miran sun ti ode ji mo

(Just as I slept last night so do someone else sleeps and didn't wakeup)

Ono ti morin lelomiran rin ti ode de ile o

(Same road that I followed did someone else followed and didn't returned home)

Ile iwosan ti mo lo lelo miran lo to de wale mo

(Same hospital I visited did someone else visit but never returned home)

Even if I had ten thousand tongues, it will never be enough to sing my praise to you my father in heaven.

My praises belongs to you God, my praises belongs to you, my praises belongs to you God, my praise, my praise belongs to you God.

All glory belongs to you God, all glory belongs to you, all glory belongs to you God, all glory, belongs to you God.

Interlude (Trumpet and guiter Solo)

My praises belongs to you God, all glory belongs to you, all honour belongs to you God, all glory, belongs to you God.
