

Warm

Candid

Warm my lips against your lips
And warm my finger tips
By giving me your hand So warm to have you close to me
And hold you tenderly
I never felt so burned All of my life I walked in the cold
Till I found your warm arms
For having to hold So please don't ever let me go
For I could never know
A love that is so warm So warm to have you close to me
And hold you tenderly
I never felt so burned All of my life I walked in the cold
Till I found your warm arms
For having to hold So please don't ever let me go
For I could never know
A love that is so warm
