

It's Real

Mahalia Jackson

It's real you're fighting your will you die to feelThe rush comes in and will hypnotize it's like a freight train running into your mind it's time to break free from the world outside and it will crush everyone that it sees in sightYou can't tell me that it's in my mind you can't tell me that it's not my time but still the rush is coming to break the seal you can change everything but the way I feel and...It's real you're fighting your will you die to feelThe call is beckoning me to speak, and with a force that's bringing me to my knees and I am hungry, with the appetite that could bring it to you for a thousand timesIt's like concrete, falling from the sky it's all pure rage building up inside so fuck all those that don't know the deal the rush comes in and your mind it stealsIt's real you're fighting your will you die to feelEnergy, you will find there is nothing I hide in my eyes will reveal no disguise 'cause it's realThis is my time it's calling me out my rage is calling meIt's all rage, from in my mind it's all rage, this is the time it's my pain, I'm sweating out my rage is calling me!It's real you're fighting your will you die cause it's real you're fighting your will you die to feel
