

Tom Cruise Control

A Stained Glass Romance

You were always meant to crumble
Like the kingdom you thought you were
Your days were the first crumble
You sacrificed your days to murder

Kiss me with your eyes wide open
I can't see how nervous you are
Now we're standing in slow motion
Never thought I'd make it this far
You let your guards fall soon to the arrows that would pierce your
You were the first casualty before the battle had begun

Kiss me with your eyes wide open
I can't see how near it's too long
Now we're standing in slow motion
Never thought I'd make it this far
You let your guards fall soon to the arrows that would pierce your heart
You were the first casualty before the battle had begun

Kiss me with your eyes wide open
I can't see how near it's too long
Now we're standing in slow motion
Never thought I'd make it this far
Okay, okay, don't be foolish
Shadows are your own broken thoughts
You're the only thing you have left to live for

And you were always meant to crumble
And you were always meant to break
You're just a wall, just broke like us

Kiss me with your eyes wide open
I can't see how nervous you are
Now we're standing in slow motion
Never thought I'd take it this far
You won't always be to crumble

You won't always be to break
You won't always be to crumble

You won't always be to break

(aaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaah)

Broken your kingdom with homeless hunters

Or your own broken thoughts

I'm the only thing you have left to live for.
