

Chandelier

Morton Valence

We'll let the ugly disappear
We'll be waltzing home tonight
We'll swing from the chandelier
Kids, don't say goodnight

The old man's back I thought he'd gone away but I guess he's here to stay with his side kick to the left he'll stick his foot across your head bleeding bones and broken legs what can I say?
whatever next?

A fading light still flickers through the hallway as you throw away the flowers that rained down on you in showers as the minutes turn to hours the hours turn to days and years but that was some place yesterday let's throw it all away

And let the ugly disappear
We'll be waltzing home tonight
We'll swing from the chandelier
Kids, don't say goodnight

---

Lyrics submitted by zack perry.

Lyrics provided by <https://damlyrics.com/>