

Take Care of Home

Dave Hollister

Gotta take of home, you know what I'm sayin'
'Cause if you don't take care of home
Somebody else will, ya feel me?
Y'all know what I'm talkin' 'bout, check it If she thinks you don't say it enough tell her you love her
Every time that your baby comes across your mind, heh, yeah, heh
And if you think your girl wants the world just give it to her
Be the sunshine that brightens up her life
Don't let her get away, no Don't let her get away
If you really care enough
Love her everyday
Over and over and over If you take care of home
You don't have to worry 'bout your girl
Take care of home, take care of home
Maybe if you keep her first
You don't have to worry 'bout your girl
Take care of home, take care of home Hold her hand when you walk through the mall
'Cause you know she likes it
Do all the little things you used to do day and night
Make sure you live to keep her happy
Make her realize how beautiful she is, she's so beautiful
Don't let her, no Don't let her get away
If you really care enough
Love her everyday
Over and over and over If you take care of home
You don't have to worry 'bout your girl
Take care of home, take care of home
Maybe if you keep her first
You don't have to worry 'bout your girl
Take care of home, take care of home If you take care of home
You don't have to worry 'bout your girl
Take care of home, take care of home
Maybe if you keep her first
You don't have to worry 'bout your girl
Take care of home, take care of home Listen to me, you got a queen
So take care of her in every way
And you're so lucky that she adores you
So worship the ground she walks on If you take care of home
You don't have to worry 'bout your girl
Take care of home, take care of home

Maybe if you keep her first
You don't have to worry 'bout your girl
Take care of home, take care of homeIf you take care of home
You don't have to worry 'bout your girl
Take care of home, take care of home
Maybe if you keep her first
You don't have to worry 'bout your girl
Take care of home, take care of home
