Really Love Someone

Adam Gregory

its feelin like a week but it could have been an hour could have been a minute since i watched you go i'm feeling incomplete a little outta beat feelin like i just lost what i was looking for then you see her standin like a face in the crowd and its raining down and you just walk by on your lonely way home and you think about it could have maybe changed your mind but i guess now you just dont know you just dont know
no your never gonna know when you really love somebody when you really love someone when you really think about it and you just get numb
when youre feeling like theres never gonna be another one
when you really love someone thinkin maybe i better swallow my pride cause it sure aint worth missin you sometimes when the weak get weak and the strong get confused when you win you lose

then you see her standin
and shes all dressed up lookin so darn good you wanna take her home
and you think about it
could have maybe changed your life
but i guess now you just dont know
you just dont know
no youre never gonna know

when you really love somebody
when you really love someone
when you really think about it
and you just get numb
when youre feeling like theres never
gonna be another one
when you really love someone you wanna hide it you wanna fight it you wanna drop it
and right
when you really love somebody
when you really love someone
when you really think about it
and you just get numb
when youre feeling like theres never
gonna be another one
when you really love someone

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/