

To Get To You (55th And 3rd)

Kenny Chesney

New York City, Fifty-Fifth and Third
I reached out my hand and there you were
You lead me where I thought I wouldn't go
It's more than just my hand now that you hold
There's been lessons learned, pages turned, even a few bridges burned
Love's become a frightening thing to do
I've been out and I've been in
I've been scared to try again
You're worth every hurt my heart's been through
I'd go through it all again if I had to
To get to you

I still see us dancing in my mind
My arms stay around you all the time
Even when were miles and miles apart
I reach out my hand and there you are
There's been lessons learned, pages turned, even a few bridges burned
Love's become a frightening thing to do
I've been out and I've been in
I've been scared to try again
You're worth every hurt my heart's been through
I'd go through it all again if I had to
To get to you

Fifty-Fifth and Third (to get to you)
At a corner booth, I hung on every word (to get to you)
Your back beneath my hand as close as we could be
You pulled me close and danced the heart right out of me
And there's been lessons learned, pages turned, even a few bridges burned
Love's become a frightening thing to do
I've been out and I've been in
I've been scared to love again but
You're worth every hurt my heart's been through
I'd go through it all again if I had to
To get to you

Fifty-Fifth and Third to get to you
Ooh I hung on every word
Ooh Fifty-Fifth and Third

Fifty-Fifth and Third

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com

written by CHESNEY, KENNETH / EWING, SKIP

Lyrics Â© Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC, WRITE! MUSIC

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>