Bob Dylan

Nine Days

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Bobby's in the basement Making his movie He paints a little picture But not to be cheesyHe wants this little girl To believe in him easy Bristles to the canvas Imagining he feels highInspiration of my heart Search for light out of the dark All the pictures in my heart Lie awake there in my fogThis oasis in my arms I approach it with disarm Though it might do me some harm Stop to catch me if I fallBobby's in the basement Making his music He never won't stop though Not to abuse itIf there's some other way That they only would use it He lives another day But they always refuse itLacerations of my heart Dropped down in pieces in the dark Mixed the words up on this page Makes the purple turn to beigeInspiration of my heart Search for light out of the dark All the pictures in my heart Lie awake there in my fogThis oasis in my arms I approach it with disarm Though it might do me some harm Stop to catch me if I fallIt's just like Bob Dylan says Stop depression of my own Walk the only road I know If I am only dreamin' Then I am not that far from itSow the strength that grows from seeds Worship creativity

If I am only dreamin' then me an' Bob

Are not that far today

So long as I'm youngBobby's in the basement

Making his musicI search the beaches walk the sand

I cut my feet on broken glass

Strap the sandals on my feet

I'm run down but I still hit the streetInspiration of my heart

Search for light out of the dark

All the pictures in my heart

Lie awake there in my fogIt's just like Bob Dylan says

Stop depression of my own

Walk the only road I know

If I am only dreamin'

Then I am not that far from itSow the strength that grows from seeds

Worship creativity

If I am only dreamin' then me an' Bob

Are not that far today

So long as I'm young

So long as I'm youngBobby's in the basement

Making his movie

He paints a little picture

But not to be cheesyHe wants this little girl

To believe in him easy

Bristles to the canvas

Imagining he feels high, highInspiration of my heart

Desperation of my heart
