Battle of the Heart

Goapele

How can I go on, dawn is breaking
But it's yours for taking
I'm losing the battle of the heart
Every time it turns to spring

I think of you again and how I long to fly, fly freeI'm standing at the edge of something beautiful

But it hurts to try I'm scared it won't arrive

Love everlasting but the dawn is breaking

But it's yours for taking I'm losing the battle of the heart, oh umm hum oh

I'm losing the battle of the heart, umm oh

I don't want to surrender

But that's when I can commend this thingThere always comes this sweet hello

And I feel way too far

On the edge of something beautiful I never realizedJust how to separate the two

Fantasy from truth and running into you

Then all of the reasons keep flashing before me

But I can't do and I thought I was through

The feeling was done, the battle was over, it's not overI'm losing the battle of the heart, oh

Is it crazy I thought I could win, oh

I'm losing the battle of the heart, oh oh
