Baker Hotel

This cake is half eaten
I don't remember a bite
My soul is badly beaten
And I can't remember the fightCrawling with an open wounds
Wiping the mud from my eyes
Endless guilt is kicking me
I'll never be free, 'cuzI live on a page that I can't read
I live in a cage of confusion
I live on a page that can't be turned
I live in a rage everlasting, everlastingI'm slowly suffocating
Under a blanket of questions
Who am I? Do I know me?
Am I box of suggestions?Well, I don't know how this ends
These days we call life
Is there time to make amends?
Well no one knows, 'cuzI live on a page that I can't read
I live in a cage of confusion
I live on a page that can't be turned
I live in a rage everlasting, everlastingI've become, I've become delirious, 'cuzI live on a page that I can't read
I live in a cage of confusion
I live on a page that can't be turned
I live in a rage everlastingI live on a page, I live in a cage
I live in a rage
I live on a page, I live in a cage
I live in a rage everlasting
