Rainbow's End

Sergio Mendes

Who looks at her life in the palm of her hand
Rain's on the roof, there's tears in the land of heartbreak
She has made up her mind, she won't turn back again
She writes a note, but words just won't say
Turns off the TV, pulls down the shade
She's leavingâ€¦ no she won't change her mind
To leave it all behind

Just one more story from a lonely boy
A twist of fate and then a start toward home
I'm for the rainbow's end
Just one more chapter in this sad old tale,
Another penny in the wishing well
I'm for the rainbow's end
Don't you turn back again

Who's playin' cards from midnight 'til dawn
Lives in a wasteland yesterday's gone forever
He's made up his mind to leave it all behind

So he says to himself as he folds up his hand
Who are my friends will understand well, I'm goin'
To find my own way, I won't turn back again.

Just one more story from a lonely boy
A twist of fate and then a start toward home
I'm for the rainbow's end
Just one more chapter in this sad old tale,
Another penny in the wishing well
I'm for the rainbow's end
Don't you turn back again

I have a dream that I hold in my heart
And I won't let go
Welcome tomorrow - I'm on my way
So goodbye yesterdayâ€¦ Goodbye yesterday

Just one more story from a lonely boy
A twist of fate and then a start toward home
I'm for the rainbow's end

Just one more chapter in this sad old tale,
Another penny in the wishing well
I'm for the rainbow's end
Don't you turn back again
