Blood Bearer

Forgetting the Memories

Nightmare
Have we gone too far?
Is this really the same dream, Iâ€™m reborn
And it's so paralyzing
To live it all again

We live too long for our purpose
We repeat ourselves in this cursed domain
Do we hold on to something?
Something we could never retain?

Living in fear of the ones who created the sun

Can you hear the choir of the night
They're singing the anthem of our lives
Save ourselves from this nightmare
And see the moon as it shines
Would you believe in a night
That is compelling in our sight

I fear what I've become
Is there a way to reverse this
Curse all the lies that grow
From their mouth
From their minds

Line our minds with seeds
So we can grow from within
And see what we really dream
