

The Lazy Sunbathers

Morrissey

A world war was announced days ago
But they didn't know, the lazy sunbathers
The lazy sunbathers
The sun burns through, to the planet's core
And it isn't enough, they want more
Nothing appears to be between the ears of the lazy sunbathers
Too jaded to question stagnation
The sun burns through, to the planet's core
And it isn't enough, they want more
Religions fall, children shelled, children shelled, that's all very well
But would you please keep the noise down low?
Because you're waking the lazy sunbathers
Oh, the lazy sunbathers, the lazy sunbathers
